

David Chichester
Partner
Tatum

David has an extensive background in corporate, real estate and not for profit management and finance, including international business. He serves or has served on the boards of public and private companies and not-for-profit organizations, including Central Garden & Pet Company, Pets.com, Red Roof Inns, Financial Guaranty Insurance Company, Brown University Sports Foundation, Brown Alumni Association, Seattle Public Library Foundation, and others.

As Chief Financial Officer or a Senior Financial Executive, he has served at Starbucks Corporation, Starbucks Japan (Tokyo), Red Roof Inns, Integrated Health Services, Marriott Corporation, General Electric Capital, and as an investment banker and commercial banker at Warburg Paribas Becker and First National Bank of Chicago, respectively. He recently was Acting CFO at Central Garden & Pet Co. As a Partner of Tatum, a Division of Randstad, he has served as Interim CFO for various companies and the University of Idaho; and, he has consulted with Bloodworks Northwest and various other clients.

David served as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Navy aboard two ships. He holds an A.B. degree from Brown University and an MBA from Harvard Business School.