

Josefina Fernandez McEvoy
Independent Executive Advisor

Josefina is a senior legal and operations executive with over 25 years of domestic and international experience in strategy realization, corporate governance, mergers and acquisitions, restructuring, recapitalization, and compliance matters in a wide range of industries and business organizations.

She joined the Bloodworks Northwest Board of Trustees in 2019 and has over 20 years of experience as a member of nonprofit boards. They include the HNBA VIA (“Vision in Action”) Fund, the Hispanic National Bar Association Board of Governors, the HNBA Legal Education Fund, and the American Bankruptcy Institute Board of Directors. Josefina is a member of the Faith Formation Ministry Council of St. Monica Catholic Community. In addition, through her previous work for the World Bank and the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL), Josefina helped assess and reform the international financial architecture to safeguard and strengthen the global financial system.

Josefina earned her Juris Doctor from the Temple University Beasley School of Law, and a Master of Education and Bachelor of Arts from Temple University. She is an immigrant from the Dominican Republic and shares her love of the mountains and skiing with her husband John.